Dr. Flint's Testimony Interesting.

Dr. Thomas Flint, of Jamesville, Mo., who has practiced medicine forty years, says he has used every prescription known to the profession for the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases, and says he has never found anything so effective in both chronic and acute kidney and bladder troubles as Foley's Kidney Cure it stops irregularities and builds up the whole system

A Clear Complexion and Bright Eyes

In most cases a sallow, clouded complexion and dull heavy eyes are due to poor digestion and a torpid liver. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and stimulates the liver and consequently makes the complexion bright and clear. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, distresses and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Original

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and no one but of its great merit and in polarity of Foley's honey and Tar made imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them; the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse substitutes. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. L. E. Smith, Appomattox; W. B. Woodson, Concord; W. C. Nowlin, Spout Springs.

The Parting.

The stars grew pale and left a pulling sky
The breeze at morning was sobbing faint and low,
The whippoorwill hushed his waiting cry
As the dawn came on so faint and slow;
The raindrops clung to shrub and tree
And still fell sadly from the unlifted mist
As though held in sorrow's thrall this world must be
Or as tear drops cling to a woman's lashes all unkissed.

A woman kneeling all alone
Sobbed out her sorrow as only they can pray,
Who knows their prayer is hopeless yet at God's throne;
Must struggling pleas, ere they fall fainting by the way;
Oh God, leave me my idol yet a little while
I cannot live without him day an I night,
I should so miss the brightness of his smile
I know not if this prayer be wrong or right
I should so miss his kisses, and if he
In some lonely time should miss me for an hour
Oh God, if you should let that time be,
I should hate thee with all my puny power
As slaves did hate their masters in days of old
When they gave their wives unto another's home
And took their little babes to be sold,
And left them toiling, forsaken and alone.
Fill not this cup oh God, for me to drink
For fighting from the wormwood I rebell
And with murmuring lips and pleading heart I shrink,
As the doomed shrink from the flames of hell.
How can I listen to the roar of hoof upon the sand
As at twilights I've so often watched for him
And know that though the sky with stars be spread
There's no star that can lead me unto him.
And if he should be sad and they God did not comfort him
But left his feet in lone dark ways to stray
I should pray that the glory of thy throne be dimmed
And that the music of Thine angels hushed for aye,
He will be lonely in that new strange world
But not so lonely as I in this old familiar place
There brighter and newer scenes around him whirl,
While here every empty room will but picture a vanished face.
The call of the world has come unto him Lord
Yet I have known others just as brave and strong,
Who fainting fell without plaudit or reward
And if you do not recall with Thine arm,
Then take him safely from these arms of mine
I who would love and serve him to the last
I cannot learn to worship at another's shrine
Tis too bitter and too hard a task.
The tread of footsteps and the clang of cars
And without the slow moving of the carriage wheels,
The woman rising knew her prayer was all too late
And the angel with the sword of flame stood between her and the God who feels,
But there echoed to her ear from the red
A voice from heaven which claimed her for his own,
A voice which said be still, and know that I am God,
For true through that I reached my throne

CARLINE CALOWAY.

Red House, Va.

Buckingham.

The grand jury did not find a true bill against young Will Wright charged with killing W. T. McFadden and he was discharged and thus it happens that a man was incarcerated in the county jail for a long period when if his case had been heard when he first came here and gave himself up he might have avoided much that was unpleasant. The neighbors do not think young Wright did the killing, but they believe an atrocious murder has been committed and this is the second case within a radius of a few miles and it is up to the commonwealth to see that this lawless spirit is stamped out. Lawyer W. D. Patteson in court here last week said Buckingham was growing into disrepute by reason of so many flagrant violations of law.

The little unpleasantness that took place in the late office of this paper has been variously described and it is strange writers and talkers should view the unfortunate affair in such different lights.

Editor White has purchased the Neighbors tract of land two and a half miles northeast of this place and has contracted for the building of a house on the place.

There was a strange light Saturday night about 7 o'clock; it appeared only for a moment and illuminated everything nearby every one, just as a lantern would do. No one seems to have seen this light at any distance but all saw it about the same time in different places. Let some reader tell us the cause of this strange light.

Judge Mann and Mr. Strode both addressed the sovereigns of Buckingham on court day.

Mr. Thomas Ellis says his firm suffered considerable loss and inconvenience by the storm at Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Jas. Lyons shipped a car load of furniture from White Hall destined for her new (old) home in Charlotte county.

It is predicted that tobacco will sell well—"frog eyes" and all.

The Buckingham High school will get $400 from the state this time.

Those 'soldier boys' uncle Sam is sending over to Cuba should have a nice time this winter. No fighting and plenty of tropical fruits to eat, if they don't run into the yellow fever there in the spring, they will be 'strictly in it' as the slang goes.

The recent ice spell, after it had been so like July for some weeks, has been conducive of colds and some suffering was among those who were not prepared to have a fire in their houses.

Capt. John C. Turner died suddenly on Sunday morning at his home near Glenmore in his 84th year.

Mr. Samuel Wheeler also died on Sunday last.

Little Chilo Saunders died at the home of Mr. Robert T. Baber on September the 28th, he was 14 years of age.

OBITUARY.

The recent death of this good man in Buckingham calls for something more than a passing notice. A soldier who did his whole duty in time of war; a citizen who did his whole duty in times of peace. At the head of his family he was kind, tender, and affectionate; as the friend of the poor and afflicted, he was known far and near. Thos. Miller was no ordinary man, he possessed firm and clear convictions of his duties and met them with unsurpassed courage. An humble and devout christian, he proved his faith by his works. He believed Christianity to be the religion of love, the religion of hope and the religion of charity. Never for a single moment of his life did he have a doubt of the truths of the doctrine of the new Testament. This sublime faith enabled him to stand with heroic courage, one of the keenest afflictions which can ever fall to the human lot. For long and weary months he had to look at the certainty of death, from which he knew there was no escape. Few men could have met their fate in so brave and manly a manner. His memory will long linger in the minds of his family and his friends. As time mellows the keen sting of sorrow, the memory of the noble qualities of Thos. Miller will not be forgotten, not the least tender of which will be his unvarying kindness to the poor, the needy and the suffering. His name may not be chiseled in marble in the temple of fame, but what is far higher and better it will be enshrined in the hearts of his family and his friends.
